THE BATTLE FOR OUR CALIFORNIA STATE FEDERATION

Dear National Republican Women Federated,

We here in the State of California need you to step in and step up at a time of great despair and ripping apart the very fabric of our most dear Federation. I know you are quite aware of what is taking place and happening to the destruction of not only our clubs but our most precious members.

It is now that your support and intervention is most necessary. Please do not stand back and be silent in our greatest time of needing our beloved National Federation's care and much-needed support.

Many, many clubs within CFRW have now been told that they are no longer appreciated or affiliated with our California Federation or our National Federation. We have always supported not only our State financially but you as our National as well. If now is not a time for you to come alongside and intervene on our behalf - then when... For such a time as this make yourselves our ally.

We are aware there is a legal battle, but that does not dismiss you from your responsibility to all of us, as we have been your sister's together in the battle for our Nation! Please do not turn a deaf ear or a blind eye to our dilemma. YOU have this one chance to do the right thing, as we have continually stood with you in the fight for integrity, righteousness, and Godly principles for our Country - Do we not deserve your support at such a time as this?

LEGISLATION AND ACTIVISM: CALIFORNIA UNIVERSAL HEALTH CARE AND CAMARILLO'S PROJECT HOMEKEY

Maria Mauro Acosta

CRWF Legislation/Activism Chair

April 5, 2023

WARNING BELLS! Assembly Bill 1690 entitled, "Universal Health Care Coverage" was introduced on February 17, 2023, and is pending referral to the appropriate Committee. The bill was authored by Assemblyman Ash Kalra (D-27 San Jose) and states, "It is the intent of the Legislature to guarantee accessible, affordable, equitable, and high-quality health care for all Californians through a comprehensive single-payer health care program that benefits every resident of the state."

AB 1690 currently lacks detail beyond the statement of intent, but the usage of the term "equity" should be sounding alarms as the word has become synonymous with "equality of outcome" as opposed to "equality of opportunity," of which implementation would likely lower the quality of health care for all Californians in the name of social justice.

This is not the first time that Assembly Member Kalra has introduced such legislation as it failed in the prior legislative session. Per the January 6, 2022, Los Angeles Times online article written by John Myers entitled, "Democrats Propose California Universal Health Care, Funded by New Income,

CA UNIVERSAL HEALTH CARE

Business Taxes,” the legislation would result in higher income taxes and business taxes, and would allow undocumented immigrants into this new “CalCare.” Medicare, Medicaid and private health insurance would be eliminated in California and it is anticipated that Kalra’s 2023 legislation will include similar language.

Express your personal opinion to the Bill’s author by logging into <https://leginfo.ca.gov> then inputting AB 1690 into the Quick Search box. Select the “Comment to Author” tab to Support/Oppose/Comment upon the pending legislation.

In addition, email your State Assembly Member and State Senator on this matter via <https://findyourrep.legislature.ca.gov>

EYE ON CAMARILLO:

On March 14, 2023, the City of Camarillo issued a press release explaining the City Council’s decision to select Jamboree Housing Corporation for Project Homekey. Upon State approval, the Days Inn by Wyndham, located at 165 East Daily Drive, Camarillo, would be converted into “62 units of permanent housing with wraparound services, a 20-bed navigation center for temporary housing and one unit for a resident manager” (Camarillo Acorn, March 18, 2023, Makena Huey).

The STATED intent of this project is to address the needs of the approximately 66 homeless persons already residing upon the streets of Camarillo. Oftentimes, government-sponsored, taxpayer-funded programs amplify problems rather than solve them, all the while enriching those contracted to administer such programs. Maintaining vigilance is critical to ensuring that Camarillo does not experience “mission creep” by intentionally or inadvertently extending an open invitation for the region’s homeless population to use Camarillo’s local taxpayer-funded services. Since the State’s Housing Element mandates and the Court have essentially forced Camarillo into this position, it is incumbent upon Camarillo taxpayers to ensure that this project stays laser-focused upon solving the local problem for which it has been created because “grant-funded” IS taxpayer funded, regardless of terminology.

Camarillo residents are strongly encouraged to sign up for email updates and to express individual opinions and concerns about this project once Jamboree Housing Corporation and the City begin general outreach. Excerpts from the press release are included below but please review the City’s Homeless Plan and read the entire press release via: https://cityofcamarillo.org/hot_topics/homelessness.php

In partnership with the County of Ventura and Jamboree Housing Corporation, the City is pleased to announce an award of $3.5 million in grant funding to convert an existing motel into permanent supportive and bridge housing with wrap-around services for Camarillo’s most vulnerable. County funding will become effective after the California Department of Housing and Community Development approves, awards, and successfully contracts with all parties in the application.

The state’s Homekey program offers a rare opportunity to leverage substantial resources to meet this challenge in our community. Recent case law (Johnson v. City of Grants Pass, September 2022) created additional implications on local jurisdictions’ ability to enforce local camping ordinances and requires cities to look for solutions to homelessness within their own jurisdiction.

“One of the biggest misconceptions about a project like this is the concern that this ‘type’ of development will attract or encourage more people to come from surrounding areas to utilize these services, thereby exacerbating a situation and turning it into a problem,” explained Commander Eric Tennesen, Camarillo’s Chief of Police. “The reality is that we are not creating a walk-up facility, but rather a housing facility that is referral based with wrap-around services to support community members who will reside in these homes.”

THE ADOLESCENT CITIZEN

California State Senator Henry Stern introduced Senate Constitutional Amendment 2 allowing 17-year-olds to vote in California elections based on the precedents of 17-year-olds being able to join the military (with parental permission), the driving age of 16, youth's expanding demographics, and their supposed greater interest in political action. This is part and parcel of a progressivists' movement to create the Adolescent Citizen.

In the Constitution, voting was initially limited to "responsible" citizens such as the Framers, namely adult male property owners. Eventually the vote was wisely extended to all adult males, then those adult males who had been property themselves, and belatedly to adult women. All had achieved the condition of born or naturalized citizenship. The central thesis of suffrage for all these groups was the personal responsibility that must accompany individual liberty. This was reflected in clear public recognition of each voter's potential or realized economic independence. These two conditions are not a common asset of those under age 18 then and especially in modern times. The civic construction of our society, our Constitution-based country, is not the limiting factor. Those two conditional barriers are set by recognizing common natural limits.

Scientifically our brains have not completely matured until age 25. Our frontal and prefrontal cortices are not yet the controls of our behaviors or beliefs. Eighteen has been the age of military service based on completing a basic education, a cultural history of being able and expected to establish an economically independent life, maximum physical quickness and strength, but recognition of the ongoing need for further external training and discipline in the "new" family of the military. No advanced nation uses resources younger than 18 except in extremis. The political resources of those under age 18 are unfortunately often expressed in extremis.

The ostensible greater political interest of this younger age group is not accompanied by a demonstrated adequate training in rationally obtaining and evaluating information. Social media has dissocialized personal experience and knowledge. This is why we have prevented youth, until recently, from giving "informed consent" for risky medical procedures. Now in many venues those who are physically capable of inducing or carrying pregnancy are empowered to end that pregnancy regardless of age or family culture. In many of these same venues adolescents with minimal concept of adulthood, or even pre-pubertal, are encouraged and empowered to make permanent and potentially damaging changes to their born biologic status.

Despite the unknown conscienceless potential damages to their future, perhaps they too should be granted suffrage?

The excess risk of drivers below age 25 due to poor judgmental abilities is economically recognized in market insurance rates. Average general knowledge and civics knowledge is shown to be far less in today's college graduates than prior generations of high school graduates.

After catapulting our Greatest Generation into the harshest of adulthoods we have spent subsequent generations infantilizing our youth with social, cultural, educational, and economic deferrals of adulthood. Far better we return to educating 17-year-olds in the aspirational civics history of our country than turn them loose to vote for the latest Twitter Troll or Snapchat Senator.

IS WASHINGTON D.C. THE BIGGEST THREAT TO OUR COUNTRY?

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

is an author of two recent books, "MEDIA MALPRACTICE More Dangerous Than Corona Virus" and "FBI KILLING TWO STONES WITH ONE BIRD." Mr. Morrison is a nationally known speaker, presenting his insights regarding the FBI as well as counter intelligence.

A variety of subjects and information points were shared with our attendees during Mr. Morrison's presentation.

Here are a few highlights of his points / theories / opinions:

No background checks are required for candidates for President or Congress.

- Example: Barack Obama's birth certificate was a fake. Birth certificates must include the name of the hospital. The birth certificate he presented had the wrong hospital name and wrong birthplace (it stated Kenya, but it was actually East Africa).

- There has been a major government cover-up with mutually agreed upon destruction. It may include killing our population while we are focused on and fighting a war elsewhere. Methods may include:
 - A-bombs in suitcases that have the capability to kill many (can come in across our borders illegally);
 - Gas the population from planes, missiles, drones, balloons etc.;
 - Poison our water systems;
 - Diseases such as Covid, SARS;

- Cover-up by FBI – FBI had trace elements and knew where Covid came from, but did not tell the American people;
- Take out a sitting President by changing the way we vote.
- The left (as well as China, Russia, North Korea) are using principals established by Joseph Goebbels, who was the principle propagandist for Hitler and the Third Reich. It is a form of brain washing where:
 - A few ideas are constantly repeated (even lies start to sound like the truth when they are repeated frequently enough);
 - Appeal to the emotions;
 - Pick out one person or "enemy" to vilify;
 - Continuously criticize your opponent;
 - Allow only one side of the argument to be seen / heard (as with our current social media & mainstream news outlets).

Solutions to above problems:

- Require licensing for journalists and hold them accountable for false stories.
- Stay the course – fight back by telling a person verbalizing falsehoods that they are wrong. Don't continue to be the silent, polite conservative.

The biggest threat to our country is Washington D.C.

- Trump's biggest mistake when he took office was to not clean house by ousting directors of CIA, FBI, DOJ, Attorney General, etc.
- Leaders of the FBI, DOJ and military have all become political instead of doing what is best for the American people.
- Allowance of open borders – If there is ground warfare, China, N. Korea, Russia & Iran could provide 12 million troops who would simultaneously invade Mexico and Canada to get to us.

- Jeffrey Epstein died by someone crushing his hyoid bone (not suicide).
- JFK was killed by a sniper who was at the railroad (Castro had put out a reward for killing JFK due to the Cuban Missile Crisis).

IT'S TIME TO STRIKE AT THE ROOT AND DEFUND UNIONS

KEYNOTE SPEAKER REBECCA FRIEDRICHS

There are a thousand hacking at the branches of evil to one who is striking at the root." Henry David Thoreau
"It's time to strike at the root and defund unions." Rebecca Friedrichs

Rebecca Friedrichs, a former teacher of 28 years, was successful in taking a lawsuit against the California Teachers' Association all the way to the Supreme Court in 2016. This resulted in blazing the trail to end forced unionism for all teachers and government employees in the USA. She has authored the book, "Standing Up To Goliath," an expose of the corrupt and abusive unions. Rebecca and her husband founded "For Kids And Country," an organization whose mission it is to educate, engage and empower parents, teachers, students and citizens in the fight to restore America's educational system to the excellence envisioned by America's Founders.

Rebecca was a vibrant speaker who informed us:

- Government unions are the deepest, darkest roots, with the worst being teachers' unions.
- Unions stole and have used the name "teachers' unions" so the public would trust them.
- These unions represent the activists, not the good, true teachers / educators.
- The teachers' unions are actually the 'Education Mafia,' the evil root destroying America.
- Public schools have become Government Indoctrination Centers.
- If your child is in a public school, you are playing Russian Roulette with their ability to come out with your (the parents') values and a good education.
- Unknown to most of us, this indoctrination / activism started years ago. Example: At a national meeting of some 10,000 teachers 20 years ago, several true teachers presented their thoughts that sex education should be more balanced. They were booed off stage and blocked from returning to their seats.

- The Communist agenda has 45 points / goals that are seen in the unions' activities. (Remember that Hitler started by indoctrinating children.) From the book, "The Naked Communist," some of the goals include:

Goal #17: Get control of the schools. Use them as transmission belts for socialism and Communist propaganda. Soften the curriculum. Put the party line in text books. Get control of the teachers' associations.

Goal #29: Discredit the American constitution...

Goal #25: Break down cultural standards of morality by promoting pornography

Goal #40: Discredit the family as an institution. Encourage promiscuity and easy divorce.

Goal #41: Emphasize the need to raise children away from the negative influence of parents...

Unions are behind:

- Inappropriate sex education
- Pornographic books in schools
- Example: Activist teachers telling students to have anal sex in order to not get pregnant
- Example: Having students participate in games such as condom relay races
- Drag queen events
- Supporting the idea of a gender spectrum – telling students that their parents did not know the student's gender at birth, so they just assigned one and that the student can change it

- Boys participating in girls' sports
- Critical race theory to divide our country
- Stopping the use of phonics for teaching reading skills and thus students have generally lost the ability to read at appropriate levels
- Stopping the posting of "The Ten Commandments" and stopping prayers in public schools
- Using the PTA as a front because it has credibility with parents & teachers, as noted by a former director in the American Federation of Teachers

You can actively support the movement to restore the authority of parents and teachers in schools by going to the For Kids And Country website to obtain information to "Adopt A Teacher." www.forkidsandcountry.org

INDICT ONE — AND ALL

April 3, 2023

Victor Davis Hanson

AMERICAN GREATNESS

As we await the publication of all the impending indictments of former President Donald Trump by Manhattan District Attorney Alvin Bragg, Americans are trying to figure out what constitutes an indictable offense for current and retired public officials.

Most legal experts, Left and Right, have noted:

1) Bragg promised in advance that he would try to find a way to indict Trump. His prior boasts are reminiscent of Stalin's secret police enforcer Lavrentiy Beria's quip, "Show me the man and I'll show you the crime." Nancy Pelosi gave the game away, when in her dotage, she muttered that Trump had a right to prove his innocence as if he is presumed guilty.

2) No former president has ever been indicted—and for good reason. Such prosecutions would be viewed as persecutions and render all former presidents veritable targets of every publicity-hungry and politically hostile local, state, or federal prosecutor. They would reduce the presidency to Third World norms. Gratuitously prosecuting former presidents would become a political tool to harm the opposing political party or to tarnish the legacy of a former president.

3) Trump is currently ahead in the polls for the Republican nomination to face Democratic incumbent Biden. And in head-to-head matchups, he outpolls Biden. For a prosecutor of the same party as the current president facing reelection to seek to destroy the viability of a likely opponent is a first in U.S. history. But again, it is now in accordance with Third World norms.

4) At least two left-leaning federal and state prosecutors previously have passed on the same evidence Bragg is now using for his indictments. They have explained that such a prosecution is infeasible because of statutes of limitations, because of a state attorney improperly appropriating the role of a federal prosecutor, and because non-disclosures agreements are a fact of life and not strictly illegal.

5) Bragg's chief witness Michael Cohen is a felon and confessed liar, with a deep personal hatred of Donald Trump—a fact well known to all potential prosecutors.

6) The current indictment follows a long line of historic harassment of Trump, including the first incidence of two impeachments of a sitting president, the first impeachment trial of a president as a private citizen, and the first FBI armed raid of a retired president's home, the first instance of an FBI director leaking confidential presidential conversations to the media for the purpose of appointing a special counsel to remove a president.

Such asymmetry also raises questions about the equal application of our laws as they apply to all our other officials, current and out-of-office.

Or, to put it another way: what crime did Trump not do that others did with either impunity or without being arrested? Here is a sample of 20.

1) Trump did not violate federal law, as did Hillary Clinton, by destroying federally subpoenaed emails and devices in order to hide evidence.

2) Trump did not violate federal law, as did Hillary Clinton, by sending classified government communications on her own, through an unsecured home-brewed server.

3) Trump did not violate federal law, as did Hillary Clinton, by hiring—through three paywalls—a foreign national, who is prohibited from working on presidential campaigns, to compile a dossier to smear her presidential opponent.

4) Trump did not violate federal campaign laws, as did Hillary Clinton, by hiding her payments (as "legal services") to Christopher Steele through bookkeeping deceptions.

5) Trump did not, as did Bill Clinton, use a crony to search out a high-paying New York job for a paramour in order to influence her testimony before a special counsel.

6) Trump did not, as did Bill Clinton, receive a $500,000 “honorarium” for speaking in Moscow while his wife, our secretary of state, approved a longstanding and lucrative desire of the Kremlin for North American uranium to be sold to a Russian consortium.

7) Trump did not, as did Barack Obama, promise Vladimir Putin that he would be “flexible” on “missile defense” if during his own reelection bid Putin in return would give him “space”. That quid pro quo arrangement led to the U.S. abandonment of key joint missile defense systems with Poland and the Czech Republic, and, reciprocally, less than two years later a Russia invasion, mostly unopposed by the United States, of eastern Ukraine and the Crimea.

8) Trump did not boast publicly, as did Joe Biden, that he used U.S. foreign aid monies as leverage to have the Ukrainian government fire a prosecutor who may have been looking into the Biden family’s efforts to sell influence to corrupt Ukrainian interests.

9) Trump did not, as the Bidens did, set up a family consortium to leverage monies from Ukraine, Russia, and China, on their shared expectations that he might soon run for and be elected president and become compromised. Trump is not mentioned, as is Joe Biden, in family business communications as a recipient of a 10 percent commission on such payoffs.

10) Trump did not, unlike Joe Biden, remove presidential papers—without any authority to declassify them—and leave them scattered and unsecured in a garage and various residences and offices.

11) Trump did not, as did the FBI, wipe clean subpoenaed mobile phone records.

12) Trump did not, as did interim FBI head Andrew McCabe, admittedly lie under oath on four occasions to federal investigators.

13) Trump did not, as did CIA Director John Brennan, admittedly lie on two occasions while under oath to the U.S. Congress.

14) Trump did not, as did Director of National Intelligence James Clapper, admittedly lie on one occasion to the U.S. Congress.

15) Trump did not, as did James Comey, claim amnesia or ignorance 245 times while under oath before the U.S.

Congress.

16) Trump did not, as did FBI Director James Comey, summarize a confidential private conversation with a president and then deliberately leak that classified memo to the media for his own agenda of appointing a special counsel to investigate the president—which turned out to be his friend Robert Mueller.

17) Trump did not, as did Robert Mueller, claim ignorance while under oath when asked about the Steele dossier and Fusion GPS, the catalysts for Mueller’s own investigation.

18) Trump did not, as did private citizen and former secretary of state John Kerry, meet clandestinely while out of office with Iranian officials to help them resist current U.S. policy toward Iran—or what the Boston Globe characterized as “unusual shadow diplomacy” to “apply pressure on the Trump administration from the outside.”

19) Trump did not, as did the FBI and CIA, pay clandestine money to Twitter to monitor and smother news stories deemed unhelpful to their agendas.

20) Trump did not, as did then-Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer, whip up a mob at the doors of the Supreme Court by threatening two sitting justices by name to intimidate them concerning an impending judicial ruling: “I want to tell you Gorsuch, I want to tell you Kavanaugh: You have released the whirlwind, and you will pay the price. You won’t know what hit you.”

In subsequent months, mobs of protestors swarmed the private homes of these two named justices to influence their decisions, a federal crime that was ignored by Attorney General Merrick Garland, but not by a self-confessed, potential assassin of Justice Brett Kavanaugh who later turned up in the neighborhood.

What are we to make of these radical disparate applications of laws and protocols? The Left repeatedly breaks laws and long-held customs with impunity by weaponizing federal offices and bureaus, whether defined in the legal sphere by mostly exempting 120 days of mass rioting, looting, arson, mayhem, and lethal violence in the summer of 2020, or procedurally by denying the House minority leader the right to nominate his party members to committees, or ceremonially having the speaker of the House tear up the presidential State-of-the-Union Address on national television.

By any fair application of past tradition and the law, Joe Biden and Alejandro Mayorkas should be impeached for their deliberate efforts to subvert U.S. immigration law for political purposes. By any just measure, Joe Biden should be the target of a special counsel's investigation to ascertain how and why the Biden family received hidden funds from foreign governments and whether Biden himself paid taxes on such large sums.

It is the revolutionary Left that attacks institutions deemed unhelpful for its current political agenda—one that rarely warrants 50 percent public approval—whether that effort is defined by threats of ending the filibuster, scrapping the Electoral College, adding two more states, packing the court, or radically changing balloting laws and customs to turn elections into a 70 percent no-show of voters on Election Day. All of the above is predicated on a simple premise: Were the opposition to match tit-for-tat these Democratic means, then the republic would quickly descend into a spiral of illegality and chaos analogous to what ended the late Roman Republic. That fact is well known to the new hard-left Democratic Party. So it has assumed the role of the spoiled teen who feels he has a blank check of lawless behavior that his parents would not dare emulate, given that for adults to do so would destroy the family.

In other words, the Left is saying to America something along the following lines, "We are so morally superior to you that we can and must employ any means necessary to achieve our unpopular political ends. But you cannot respond in kind or deter us by mimicking our own tactics, because should both parties do so, the resulting disorder would undermine the republic. And that is something you won't dare do."
